As road agent, I submit the following report :

About 2000 feet of permanent gravel road has been made. The old plank road in the Adams district has been replaced with good gravel, also the wet, muddy road near Frank Patten's is a solid roadbed of gravel, and the hill by Frank Dolloff's has been graded with gravel and the ledges blown out to give a good ditch. There is on hand about 4000 feet bridge plank and 1700 feet railing. A large amount of railing has been put up this year.

UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 2.

REPORT OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

To the Parents and Citizens residing in Union School District:

The report of the Board of Education for the past year is herewith submitted.

During the winter and spring terms, matters moved in their accustomed course, with Memorial exercises in connection with Memorial Day, and the annual exhibit of the handiwork of the pupils. This exhibit will probably be omitted this year for reasons to be stated later. At the close of the school year on June 18th, last, the graduating exercises of our High School occurred in the afternoon at the town hall. The hall was tastily decorated and the class colors of blue and gold skilfully wrought into elaborate festooning and the emblem B. H. S., suspended above the platform. Yellow was also beautifully incorporated into the general scheme by the use of numerous yellow lilies and buttercups, combined with ferns and other greens, banners and pennants. The school chorus under the efficient direction of Mrs. Crafts added much pleasure to the occasion. Chairman Gilman announced the program, and in the unavoidable absence of the Superintendent, Secretary White delivered the address to the class.

The names of the graduates are Ethel M. Southard, Alice M. Pope, Flora A. Haselton, Olive E. Woodman, Hilda M. Kenney, Harry E. Littlefield, Rensford C. Mitchell, Elwyn J. Verrill and Frank H. Higgins. Miss Swain, who had been laboring strenuously for several successive years in the High School, requested leave of absence for a year, for rest and recuperation, which was granted by the Board, and Miss Mary B. Wells was elected substitute teacher for the ensuing year. Miss Grace E. Downing, formerly of the Brockton, Mass., schools and Miss Harriet A. Gray of Gloucester, Mass., were elected to teach in Grades VI and VII and Grades III and IV respectively. The other teachers elected were the same as last year.

On Monday, Sept. 13, 1915, the fall term opened with about 184 pupils present, and continued with excellent prospects of a successful term until Monday, Sept. 27, when on account of several cases of suspicious sore throat, by advice of the school physicians, Drs. Calley and Bishop, all schools were closed temporarily.

Much to the regret of the Board and the community, several of the children were attacked by diphtheria and two of them, Elaine C. Follansbee and Eugene N. Robie, succumbed to the dread disease. Happily, since that period, although there have been some 25 or 30 cases in all among the children, no others have been removed by death. Soon after the outbreak of this disease, the Board requested the physicians to take the cultures of teachers and pupils, which was accordingly done. Three or four only were found to be positive, showing diphtheria. The school buildings and books were fumigated by the local Board of Health. Dr. Charles Duncan of the State Board of Health came to Bristol and examined the school buildings and conditions generally, to ascertain if the cause of the diphtheria could be located. He pronounced the school buildings and conditions there wholesome and sanitary, affording no cause for the outbreak of the disease. Neither could he account for it except that some one was a carrier of the same. This, however, did not allay the fears of the parents. The alarm was so general that it was thought wise not to reopen the schools until Nov. 15th, from which date they continued until the close of the Fall term on Dec. 23d.

The winter term opened Dec. 28th, and has continued most of the time since, except when a sporadic case has caused another scare. During this period the buildings and books have again been fumigated, probably three times in some of the grades.

February 5, Dr. H. N. Kingsford, of Dartmouth College, came as a representative of the State Board of Health, to make examination and see if he could determine the cause of the diphtheria. He also pronounced the school buildings sanitary, and could discover nothing about them that should cause the disease. Directly after, through his advice, the cultures of the janitor, all teachers, all pupils who were then attending school, and substantially all who were not, were taken by Dr. Duncan and Mr. McCrillis of the Boards of Health, all of which fortunately proved to be negative and tended to restore confidence.

Since then nearly all pupils have returned to school. A few are convalescent and others for good reasons have been excused by the Board temporarily.

To the present time, the cause of the outbreak has not been definitely determined, but from such investigation as the Board has been able to make, it seems probable that it arose either from a visitor who brought it before the schools opened, to a family wherein there were school children; or from one of the school children who was away visiting just before the schools opened and either contracted a mild form of the disease, which appeared as sore throat, or became a carrier, and gave it to a few of the school children, whence it spread sporadically, as there has been no general outbreak in any one of the various schoolrooms; or from cats which in some way had contracted the disease.

As during the late summer and early autumn there had been more or less of sore throat among the cats, and as in a few of the families there was a sick cat as well as a sick child, Dr. Doud took cultures of some of the sick cats, which were sent to a laboratory and proved to contain the bacilli of diphtheria.

Whatever the cause, never in the history of our graded schools have the parents and citizens been so alarmed and even terrorized over any disease, as they have been by this outbreak of diphtheria. Although at the present time it has apparently been checked, the effect upon the public schools has been such as to seriously interfere with the harmony and progress of the pupils in their studies. Some have lost so much time that they will probably be unable to advance at the end of the year. Fortunately the High School pupils have not been as much afflicted nor as scared as the rest, and have attended as a whole more diligently, and will probably be able to complete the course for the year.

On account of interruption by diphtheria, it is not expected that there will be a manual training or handiwork exhibit this year. A new flag has been purchased and displayed in the High School room. All parents and others interested in our schools should now encourage the prompt and continuous attendance of pupils in order to improve the time remaining for this year.

Too little attention is given by parents to the throats and teeth of their children. Some of them have adenoids, enlarged tonsils and probably other troubles. Although it is highly important, yet parents decline in some cases to secure proper surgical or remedial treatment therefor. The care of the teeth is also very important. One prominent physician says that the loss to the nation from neglect of the children's teeth is as great as the loss from alcohol.

The five chief points in the education of a modern child are said to be proper clothes, food, sleep, exercise, and systematic study. For four-fifths of these, parents are largely responsible.

Normal children of proper age should be compelled to attend school for two reasons: first because of the benefit to the public or State, second, by reason of the benefit to the pupil. It is the duty of the State to protect its citizens, therefore it is in accord with the Constitution of the State to compel children to attend school, in order to secure greater safety to our institutions. Some one has said, "A child is better unborn than untaught." President Eliot considers that the end of all education is twofold—enjoyment and service. Ralph Waldo Emerson's idea was that the best political economy is the care and culture of men. The Hornbook, Primer, Bible and Arithmetic were the chief school-books of our early New England ancestors. They understood, remembered and applied well, according to their opportunity, the ideas taught in those days. But the present generation claims to have made advancement in many ways since those early days, and it behooves us with modern equipment, by diligent and faithful effort, to surpass our ancestors in intensified intelligence, and in the larger ideal of life, with its greater opportunity and ideal possibilities of attainment.

The work of the Board of Education and of the teachers is quite strenuous and all good citizens should support them in their endeavor to maintain efficient schools of as advanced grades as the means of the district will permit. The roll of honor, or perfect attendance, is appended. The present members of the Board are Frank N. Gilman, Chairman; Wm. C. White, Secy.; Mrs. Mabel M. Ladd, Mrs. Lura L. Price, Homer H. Hutchinson and Ira A. Chase.

Respectfully submitted for the Board,

IRA A. CHASE, Superintendent.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

It is with some sense of pride that the school committee present the following report. They feel that the schools, during the last year, have been a success in almost every particular, and that they are in better working condition than ever before.

In the school report of 1915 the committee called the attention of the people of the district to the extremely bad condition of the school books. These badly soiled and badly worn books have been replaced by new books, which appear to be the most popular with school men, up-to-date and attractive in every way. We hope the parents of the children have examined them carefully.

It has been the desire of the committee to have as good schools as possible, not how many. The children from the north part of the town, in No. 9, were conveyed to school No. 8 at the foot of the lake, by automobile. This means of transportation was safe, speedy and pleasant, whether it rained or not. By doing this, there was a saving to the district of $150 or more, and at the same time the scholars had better school privileges than could be had in any other way. We trust this arrangement met with the approval of all concerned, so that the continuance of this plan will be assured.

It has been a long time since money has been raised for the repair of schoolhouses. They need some paint on the outside and on the inside as well. Some other light repairs are needful. More blackboard space is needed. Please do not overlook this great item of efficiency. Before the time of the next school meeting make an effort to go to the different schoolhouses and look the buildings over. Be sure to have in mind that these schoolhouses are the living rooms of our children for many weeks. They are not intended for some cart-house back of the barn, or a sap house in the sugar bush.

None of us attended school too much when we were young. Let us all, now we are older, take a day now and then and go to school. It is not necessary to be enrolled as a scholar in order to visit a school. There is no doubt, if you will go once, but that you will want to go again. Do not stop to rap on the door and thereby frighten the timid ones within; but open the door quietly and walk in. You will find some chairs always ready for visitors. By so doing you will see the work of the school proceeding on its accustomed course. You may notice a little nervousness at first for the scholars are not accustomed to see visitors; but they will soon get over this, however, if you come often enough, and will be more than anxious to show you what they are doing. Take a walk around the room. Notice the drawings on the wall of leaves and flowers, and on the board may be a free-hand drawing of the state (if the board is large enough) and possibly another of the township of Bristol. Call on the different scholars at their desks and give them a smile of encouragement. By your interest the teacher will be enthused with new courage and will try to do even better work. Now father take mother and go to school a part of a day, or mother take a friend and drop in often. These children are your own flesh and blood and you should be more interested in their welfare than in all other matters.

The committee wish to lay before the fathers and mothers in the district one important matter—that is, the securing of the best teachers possible. Good teachers are not plenty. So let everyone be a self appointed committee of one to look up a good teacher, a teacher that is well fitted in every way. Some one has said that it is the college faculty that makes a college what it is. How much more is this true in the common school as long as success largely depends on the start one gets. It is the teacher that makes a school. She must be kind, sympathetic, motherly, tactful and know everything. Much effort should be made in looking up the record of a teacher. Visit the school when she is teaching if possible and see her in her work. Visit the Normal School and see the prospective teachers as they are being tried out in actual teaching. There are many that assume to be school teachers that are not fitted for that work. Such should not be hired at any price. One poor teacher for one term even may utterly destroy all desire for an education and ruin the prospects of a person for life. It may be necessary to hire inexperienced teachers, owing to our limited means, but if such are fitted by nature and by training they will make the school a success. Let every one interested be on the lookout.

One more matter, and this is of supreme importance. If you want good, attractive, well equipped schoolhouses and good school teachers, you must put up the money. Let everyone interested come out to the school meeting, thoroughly familiar with the needs of the district. Do not take any man's opinion on the amount necessary to run the schools. The committee will give what they think is the amount necessary. You may think it too much and you decide the matter. Discuss the different objects of appropriation thoroughly. Decide on the number of schools you will have and the number of weeks of schooling, the price per week of teachers, repairs necessary, cost of wood and all the rest. It is advisable to look out for the wood supply some time before it is actually needed.

By some change in the state law the town did not get as much money from the state as formerly, and for this reason the district ran short of funds to the amount of $100.00. This amount will have to be raised in addition to the amount necessary for the current year.

Would it not be a good time during this period of good fellowship to unite the two school districts so that the children in the village and from the farms may have equal school advantages?

MINOT-SLEEPER LIBRARY

In accordance with custom, the trustees of the library hereby submit their annual report.

As a whole the library has been well patronized during the past year in the book department and also in the reading room department, considering the many diversions that tend to cause the young people especially to spend their evenings elsewhere. In addition, diphtheria and the diphtheria scare, have kept many away since last autumn. Soon after the outbreak of this disease, by order of the trustees the library was closed for six weeks.

Before reopening it was fumigated by the Board of Health and since the first of February has again been thoroughly fumigated. During the year quite a number of worn-out books, for which there is a demand, have been duplicated, and 330 new books added. There have been 1296 patrons, who have taken out 7000 books.

Among the magazines taken are the following: Century, Harper's, American, Ladies' Home Journal, Scribner's, Pictorial Review, Munsey's, Geographic, Travel, Country Life, Leslie's, Harper's Weekly, Cosmopolitan, World's Work, Atlantic, Review of Reviews, Outlook, Youth's Companion, St. Nicholas, North American Review, Granite State Monthly, McClure's, etc., all paid for out of the Jackman Fund. During the year the exterior of the building has been painted, and at the present time the interior is in process of thorough renovation.

The trustees have also voted to cement the cellar, which is naturally quite damp.

There is great need for more space for the books, and as the library is of great use and benefit to the community, active steps should be taken in the near future, looking to the enlargement of the present building. At the annual meeting of the trustees the following officers and committees were elected: President, Ira A. Chase; Secretary, Channing Bishop; Treasurer, George H. Calley; Librarian, Mary A. Dodge; Executive committee, Ira A. Chase, George H. Calley, Fred H. Ackerman; Book Committee, Channing Bishop, Wm. C. White, Karl G. Cavis.

Respectfully submitted,

IRA A. CHASE	FRED H. ACKERMAN
CHANNING BISHOP	WM. C. WHITE
GEORGE H. CALLEY	KARL G. CAVIS
FRANK N. GILMAN	WM. H. MARSTON
